PLANETA

OVERVIEW

La Segreta takes its name from the woods which surround our Ulmo vineyard. This young fresh wine principally produced from Nero d'Avola grapes, flagship of Sicilian wine, gains its personality and style with the addition of some international grapes. All the vines are knowledgeably cultivated in vineyards owned by Planeta. La Segreta is a versatile companion for daily drinking, suitable for many different occasions. It is a perfect approach to Sicilian wine with its excellent relationship between price and quality, guaranteed by Planeta's careful input from vine to wine.
